

The following information from the Registry of the International Court of Justice is communicated to the Press:

At 3 p.m. on Monday, 15 March, in the Peace Palace at The Hague, the International Court of Justice will begin public hearings on the merits in the South West Africa cases (Ethiopia v. South Africa; Liberia v. South Africa). Proceedings against South Africa were instituted on 4 November 1960 by Applications of Ethiopia and Liberia. On 20 May 1961 the Court made an Order in which it found that Ethiopia and Liberia were in the same interest and joined the proceedings so instituted. South Africa thereafter filed preliminary objections to the jurisdiction of the Court, and the proceedings on the merits were suspended. On 21 December 1962 the Court delivered a Judgment in which it rejected the four preliminary objections raised by South Africa, and upheld its jurisdiction. The intervening period has been occupied with the written proceedings on the merits of the dispute.

When he opens the public sitting on 15 March at 3 p.m., the President of the International Court of Justice will make a declaration to mark the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the United Nations, which falls in 1965.

As the Court in its regular composition does not include upon the bench judges of the nationalities of the Parties, Ethiopia and Liberia on the one hand and South Africa on the other have respectively chosen to sit as judges ad hoc, in accordance with Article 31 of the Statute of the Court, Sir Louis Nwachukwu Mbanefo, Chief Justice of the Eastern Region of Nigeria, and the Hon. Jacques Theodore van Wyk, Judge of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of South Africa. These judges ad hoc also sat in the preliminary objections phase of the cases.
