Press Release

Unofficial

No. 2022/71

8 December 2022

Allegations of Genocide under the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide (Ukraine v. Russian Federation)

The Slovak Republic files a declaration of intervention in the proceedings under Article 63 of the Statute

THE HAGUE, 8 December 2022. Yesterday, the Slovak Republic, invoking Article 63 of the Statute of the Court, filed in the Registry of the Court a declaration of intervention in the case concerning Allegations of Genocide under the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide (Ukraine v. Russian Federation).

Pursuant to Article 63 of the Statute, whenever the construction of a convention to which States other than those concerned in the case are parties is in question, each of these States has the right to intervene in the proceedings. In this case, the construction given by the judgment of the Court will be equally binding upon them.

To avail itself of the right of intervention conferred by Article 63 of the Statute, Slovakia relies on its status as a party to the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide.

In its declaration, Slovakia states that “[it] considers that the Genocide Convention constitutes the international legal framework of utmost importance to prevent and punish genocide”, adding that “[b]y intervening in this case, Slovakia wishes to reaffirm its commitment to upholding the rights and obligations contained in the . . . Convention, including by supporting the crucial role of the Court and emphasizing that international cooperation is required to prevent, adjudicate on and punish acts of genocide”.

In accordance with Article 83 of the Rules of Court, Ukraine and the Russian Federation have been invited to furnish written observations on Slovakia’s declaration of intervention.

Slovakia’s declaration of intervention will soon be available on the Court’s website.

The International Court of Justice (ICJ) is the principal judicial organ of the United Nations. It was established by the United Nations Charter in June 1945 and began its activities in April 1946. The Court is composed of 15 judges elected for a nine-year term by the General Assembly and the Security Council of the United Nations. The seat of the Court is at the Peace Palace in The Hague (Netherlands). The Court has a twofold role: first, to settle, in accordance with international law, through judgments which have binding force and are without appeal for the parties concerned, legal disputes submitted to it by States; and, second, to give advisory opinions on legal questions referred to it by duly authorized United Nations organs and agencies of the system.
